

Exhibiting at Mid-England Barrow

Mid-England Barrow

Pure Cremation is delighted to be one of the exhibitors at the first open event arranged by the creators of the newly-constructed Mid-England Barrow between 11am and 3pm on August 20th. Refreshments will be available in the Safari Tent.

The Mid-England Barrow offers a beautiful alternative farewell venue and resting place for ashes. The elemental qualities of stone, silence and candlelight in unspoiled countryside resonate with many looking for a serene memorial location for themselves or a loved one.

The event is free to enter and you'll get to chat with experts who understand that today's families are looking for more meaningful farewells and are eager to explore new options for ceremonies and resting places. Tours of the Barrow will allow you to experience the special atmosphere for yourself.

A direct cremation is a modern alternative to a traditional funeral that separates the committal and the cremation. Choosing this option lets you decide how you want to remember your loved one, allowing you to hold a truly personal farewell at a time that suits everyone. That could be a big family get together or quiet picnic in a special location – the choice is truly yours. For more farewell ideas, visit our saying goodbye page for inspiration.

When you're thinking about what to do with your loved one's ashes, we have written an article that contains a few simple pointers to help families make the best decision for everyone involved.

A number of families store their loved one's ashes at crematoriums, with funeral directors, or at home because they haven't found the perfect location for their loved one's ashes. A Pure Cremation followed by a celebration of life and placement of ashes in a personalised barrow niche is a beautiful way to remember a life that touched yours.
